SAJAN OPENS MILWAUKEE/CHICAGO REGIONAL OFFICE

JANUARY 10, 2006—Sajan, a leading translation service and technology provider announces the opening of their latest regional office in Milwaukee, WI. This expansion will enable Sajan to meet rising client demand in the metro areas of Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago.

“We saw tremendous growth in 2005 which verifies that our blended offering of single platform technology and high quality service is aligning more closely to what clients want from a solution provider,” notes Sajan CEO, Shannon Zimmerman.

Sajan is headquartered in River Falls, WI, just east of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis/St. Paul, MN. The opening of the Milwaukee/Chicago office is the result of regional market growth and demonstrates continued commitment to national expansion.

Sajan offers a single platform solution to centrally manage and streamline the entire translation workflow process, from authoring to publication. This solution requires no software to buy or install and offers numerous advanced features to those requiring language translation.
